THE FIRST TRADITION

by Jim M.

Most of us got sober on the Twelve Traditions of Alcoholics Anonymous, and most of us Stay Sober on the Twelve Traditions of Alcoholics Anonymous....A great many people may get upset when they read that statement. "The twelve steps are the meat of my program", they will exclaim. We are not trying in any way to down-grade the beautiful and powerful steps of A.A.

Let us for a moment, take a look at the last seven words of the Tradition: "Personal recovery depends on A.A. unity."

The best definition of the word unity that I know of is actually the first three letters of the word: U-N-I, or You 'n I !! In no other organization does the word unity mean so much. We could not have gotten sober without each other, and we depend on each other for personal recovery. These Traditions do keep us together because of this need.

For the Alcoholic, personal recovery gives us rights: The right to live in dignity, the right to happiness, the right to strive for all the goals in life that we once dreamed of, or simply, the right to live: Alcoholism is a fatal illness.

At least the first six weeks of my sobriety were directly (and most positively) affected because of this first tradition. As I had tried before I could not stay sober alone, but You 'N I did together what I could not do alone... Fourteen years later, my feeling is the same. The principle reason for my sobriety is the first tradition of AA.

My happiness is in direct relationship to the number of

A.A. meetings I am attending. The comfort I have also can be shifted in relation to how close I am keeping to the other members of the fellowship. An A.A. meeting gives me a 'lift' that seems to last well for twenty-three hours. Then, slowly, it will start to wear down.

The Twelve Steps of A.A. have made a dramatic change in my life. It is because of this change that I am a very happy person today. However, in my particular case, I don't believe that I would have been

1. A.A. activity was reported in 108 overseas countries. Among them, 42 supplied no estimates of groups and members; estimates for figures there were obtained by taking an average among 60 countries that did respond (six others responding—the largest—were excluded).

2. U.S. and Canada only.

The estimated group counts in the U.S. and Canada include only those that ask to be listed at G.S.O.; thousands do not.

Among listed groups in the U.S. and Canada, many do not report membership figures. For each nonreporting group, an estimate of membership is arrived at by taking an average among reporting groups within the Conference area concerned. Even among reporting groups, membership figures include only those now active and attending meetings; there is no way to count sober members who no longer have a home group.

SOBRIETY...

What It Means To Me!

Today sobriety means freedom from fear, freedom to look other people in the face and to have back my self-respect; to feel that I am no longer someone to be looked down upon as a no-hoper or, at least, to be pitied as a poor, helpless, so and so; freedom from those hellish morning-after feelings, when I thought the night would never end and when it did, I dreaded to face another day.

Today, all over the world, alkie are facing the problems of compulsive drinking and wondering where it will all end. All too often it ends up in jail cells, hospitals, mental homes, parks, or, as often happens, in death, either by our own hand or by the continued use of alcohol which, to us, is a poison. A grim prospect, but true as many of us in A.A. know all too well.

I am humbly grateful to A.A. for the chance of recovery from the life I once led; that is all A.A. claims to do. It gives us a chance to lead a sober life. It cannot, nor does it try, solve the financial problems or the domestic problems.

With the twelve steps of A.A., the fellowship of the group at meetings, and the desire to do something positive about our drinking, and with honesty and humility, we can lead a contented, sober life just one day at a time. We can learn to accept our problems, if not solve them, without depending on the bottle.

To all those who have a drinking problem, you may find in A.A. the help and understanding that I did.

able to take those steps or to live by this program without all my friends in A.A. They shared with me the way to take these steps...sharing in the meetings, in unity. It was You 'N I doing it together and that made it alot of fun. You 'N I today do what neither of us could do alone.

All of the following eleven traditions are designed to be guarantees that You 'N I can stay together. And when we are together, we are so aware that sobriety is infinitely more attractive than drunkenness.

What 'Tough Love' Is All About

When I first came to A.A., often would hear the words, 'Tough Love'. For a long time, I honestly had no idea what those words meant, but I was soon to find out.

My first experience with 'Tough Love' began with a nurse from the care unit I went through. At the time, I really didn't want to hear anything she was saying. I know that today. I felt she just didn't care, or understand and that she had a bad attitude towards me. I left the care unit after completion of the program and continued treatment in a women's treatment center. Sometime near the end of my stay there, I called this same nurse at the care unit.

With almost three months of continuous treatment, I felt things were starting to shape up in my life. Not so; she proceeded to tell me just how much my attitude stank. I was hurt and angry after that conversation, yet I had to take a look and begin to realize that she'd been trying to tell me what I needed to hear all along.

Sometimes, it's hard for me to see where I'm setting myself up or when I'm about to make an insane decision. Other people can see that and tell me, when I let them. Even today, my sponsor will say things I really don't want to hear....things that hurt. Sometimes, I get angry or upset with her, however, I know today, she does it because she loves me enough to tell me what she feels I need to hear in order to maintain my sobriety.

It's also hard to dish out 'Tough Love', which I've had to experience with a friend. It's hard to stand by and watch someone beat their head against a brick wall. Lots of times, it has been said, you have to hurt in order to grow. Is going through the pain worth the gain? To me it is, a day at a time. Without my sobriety, I will die. It's a matter of life and death for me.

When I get up in the morning, I ask God to help me to stay clean and sober today and to help me to do His will and not mine. At night, I thank Him for another day of sobriety and for all of You; but, especially for my sponsor and the nurse on the care unit who both continue to throw 'Tough Love' my way.

Without it, I honestly believe I wouldn't be clean and sober today.

SELF-DECEPTION

One of the most stubborn defects of the alcoholic is the tendency to justify his mistakes.

Non-Alcoholics, to be sure, are by no means spared this failing. The difference is that for the alcoholic who wants to stay sober, self-deception of this sort is a luxury that is only slightly less perilous than taking the first drink.

Let's face it--mistakes don't really matter. Not if they're made in good faith, are quickly and honestly recognized as such, and rectified when and where possible.

In fact, the alcoholic who can make Step Ten part of his life gains far more than self-knowledge.

By continuing daily to take personal inventory and when wrong promptly admitting it, he can absorb his mistakes into the personal storehouse of experience that adds up to wisdom.

In a world where "passing the buck" has become the answer to almost any legitimate complaint, to admit a mistake freely and honestly brings about some very strange results.

At least it will astonish anyone who's geared up to combat excuses or evasions from the alcoholic.

At best it can, and often does, turn this potential enemy into a well-wisher.....

KEEPING THE TWELVE STEPS

WHAT IS THE RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN DAILY LIVING AND THE TWELVE STEPS OF A.A.

Sometimes, I think of the 12 Steps as the rules by which the alcoholic in A.A. is compelled to live. In fact, they are much more than a body of rules for right living and survival.

My experience is that they live in us when complete surrender to the realities of our illness is accomplished. In a subtle and wonderful way we obtain an understanding of the principles behind the Steps which is so necessary to combat the physical, mental and spiritual poison which previously had obsessed our lives.

This is brought about by meditating, praying and partaking of all A.A. has to offer and by a willingness to change our attitudes and whole process of thought particularly in our relationships with God and our fellowman.

But even then our contentment is not complete. I found that my activities generally must show outwardly each day that I believe in these principles. This is my interpretation of Keeping On The Program.

In a word, the Steps should become the outer framework for interior strength and love; otherwise I have no chance of maintaining that inner peace which is so necessary for my survival.

To keep the Steps helps me to appreciate their treasures more and more. Let me then be thankful Today that God's will as manifested in A.A. keeps me sober provided I adhere to the guidelines set down by our Founding members.

TIPS FOR SOBER VACATIONING

About to embark on your first vacation trip in A.A.?

Being nervous about it won't help. But oldtimers and newcomers alike find it useful to make some level-headed preparations from the experience of many A.A.'s.

1. Get ready with an "Easy Does it" attitude. Make today a good A.A. day instead of borrowing future frets.

2. Talk it over with other A.A.'s, get their suggestions.

3. Get a WORLD DIRECTORY and make local A.A. contacts wherever you go. Use the A.A. CALENDAR IN BOX 4-5-9, or The Grapevine, and if you get near New York, PLEASE come visit your General Service Office. (Or check with the telephone book for the local A.A. listing.)

4. Slip some Grapevines and pamphlets in your bag for a private, quiet "reading meeting" each morning. (Or maybe this is the time to turn the jacket inside out on "A.A. Comes of Age" and really read it, as you've been meaning to!)

5. Take your personal A.A. address book with you, and every day write at least one postcard to members back home, for your sake, not theirs.

6. Plan an itinerary that is NOT a boozier's dream. No need to include memory-laden old watering hotels and drink-buddies every time.

7. Plan non-drinking activities you'll enjoy remembering - churches, museums, theaters, etc. Too much idle time can be bad, but so can fatigue, and hunger, of course.

8. Make sure you have at least one companion who knows you're in A.A. He's on your side, can secretly "sponsor" you.

9. Plan what to do on drinking occasions. Decide in advance which nonalcoholic drink you're going to order.

10. Many of us feel better, if we simply tell the truth about being recovering alcoholics. Where you're going there may be a sick alcoholic asking God to send him help somehow, please.

NOTHING HARD

IS EASY!

What a title - but it's true enough, if we can look beyond the obvious and understand the fact that I'm going to write about the twelve steps -- and what can be done about them. Anyone can take the first step --at least anyone can say so and at any given point in time mean what they say.

"I AM POWERLESS OVER ALCOHOL AND MY LIFE HAS BECOME UNMAN-AGEABLE".

There, you see, it's not hard to utter those words. Having drunk ourselves out of money, a job, it is quite easy to say those words - and - MEAN them, even if for only the time of the meeting - it's afterwards that we have to face up to the fact that our resolve will be tested. If we are 100% honest and sincere about being powerless over alcohol and we are prepared to go to any lengths, which includes saying NO to anyone who offers us a drink, then the words begin to have a real meaning and the step will work for us. Saying NO to the temptation to pick up another drink is the hard part.

"Have a drink and I'll help you get a job"! Very tempting isn't it? Is he really our friend? What's his true intention? Is he jealous of your resolve to be sober, to have a better life than you had? Probably! He may not have the courage to try for himself.

It's hard to say NO the first time but saying it the second time is easier, and the third time easier still. If you say NO to the first drink enough times, people will tire of asking and you'll be left in peace!

"CAME TO BELIEVE THAT A POWER GREATER THAN OURSELVES COULD RESTORE US TO SANITY".

But I am not insane! At least not as I understand insanity. Yet..was my drinking sane? NO! I can't imagine any completely sane person drinking so compulsively - so obsessively - to the total exclusion of everything that is sane and sensible, to the point where there was no money, home or anything else. How many times have I tried to get sober and to stay sober alone? I've lost count of the times.

Does this mean that I have to become a Holy Joe? Or a Bible freak, if I admit to a Power greater than myself? The experiences of other alcoholics tell me that this isn't so --- I NEED to be sane to be able to pursue the other ten Steps, -- sanely and intelligently -- so I also need a Power greater than I am to help me.

"MADE A DECISION TO TURN OUR WILL AND OUR LIVES OVER TO THE CARE OF GOD AS WE UNDERSTOOD HIM".

This wasn't easy; yet this one step brought peace into my life - made it easier to approach God and to tackle the Fourth and Fifth Steps with a good resolve. After all, unless I was prepared for this hardest of all Steps, opening up the cellars of my life and thoroughly trying to rake out and destroy the vile garbage which had cluttered it for so many years - no worthwhile progress could or would ever be made.

Mountains of doubt rose up against me. It seemed that I would never surmount such a mass of defects - yet, when the time came and passed, I was transported into such a state of ecstasy that I seemed to float on air.

The Sixth, Seventh, Eighth, Ninth and Tenth Steps did not seem hard at all, even though I now knew that each of the steps needed its own courage so that it could be taken sincerely.

The Eleventh and Twelfth are the "result of these Steps" -- from our own vital experiences comes our strength of resolve and purpose, plus the spirit of service.
