The Orange County Intergroup has found a new and permanent home at the Jamboree Worship Center -- 2777 McGaw Avenue -- entrance at McGaw off Jamboree -- cross street is Alton. All the Intergroup reps meet the second Wednesday of each month at 7:00 PM and every meeting should have a rep. If your meeting doesn't have a Rep., you should jump in and become one. Our meetings only last less than an hour as a rule, and it is FUN!!!

THE GREETER -The face of A.A.

Number 7 in a continuing series on A.A. Service

In the first year of my sobriety, everything was new, scary and exciting. When I discovered something that was new to me, I assumed it was new to everyone.

One Saturday night, I went with a friend down to Hoag Hospital to watch him celebrate a year of sobriety with the people with whom he had originally gotten sober. You can imagine my amazement when we walked up to the meeting room and there were two l-o-o-o-o-o-o-o-n-g lines of men and women standing there greeting everyone who entered the meeting room – even me!!! At first, I was somewhat intimidated – they were all dressed so nice and I was in my Saturday kickback clothes, but as I walked down the line and everybody reached out to grasp my hand, the distress soon abated and was replaced by this wonderful idea that my Home Group just had to have greeters like this.

Upon returning to my Home Group the next Tuesday night, I approached one of the few members who would listen to me anymore and blurted out, “Bob, I went to a meeting Saturday night, and they had greeters. Can you imagine that, Bob, greeters!! We need greeters here, Bob. We absolutely need greeters!!!” Bob didn't say anything for awhile, but when he spoke, he related the single wisest thing I have EVER heard from anyone. Bob said, “This is a Newcomer's Meeting, son - we're all greeters here”. Now, you may be asking yourself, “How can he possibly say that was the wisest thing he has EVER heard?”

Well, when I dejectedly walked outside the meeting hall at my Home Group and started self-consciously welcoming newcomer and old-timer, alike, the memory of when I first showed up as a drunken newcomer came strongly to my mind. The men and women of my Home Group were standing there to welcome me. They showed me where the restrooms were. They told me that the coffee was free, (and that was just about what it was worth). But what I remembered most was the look I saw on most of their faces. I have never forgotten that look – a look of genuine concern. I didn't understand it then – I do now. I try to stand outside any A.A. meeting I attend, (vicariously inhaling the second hand smoke) and welcome anybody who shows up. No service I have ever given in A.A. has ever given me the sense of giving something back as that simple act. Try it for a month at your Home Group.

WE PAY OUR OWN WAY

Tradition 7 -- Every A.A. group ought to be fully self-supporting, declining outside contributions.

It's pretty explicit, the Seventh Tradition. It leaves very little room for misunderstanding.

And yet, for as long as I've been around Alcoholics Anonymous, it seems like finding methods for circumventing this Tradition have almost become a parlor game.

The year was 1984. Our meeting was being held in a city recreation hall and we were satisfied with the arrangement. But someone in the city's recreation department sent us a letter saying that because the cost for insurance was increasing, the city would have to hike our rental fee, in effect doubling the cost for the room.

A member was asked to intercede with the city and another member was asked to scout around for alternative locations.

The following week we met in the camper of a member in the parking lot of the recreation hall. And the member who was supposed to intercede told us that the city didn't like the idea of doubling our rent but simply had no other course. Our member also told us that another A.A. meeting, which used the same hall we used but a night earlier in the week, said it hadn't had its rent raised. There was an instant display of anger, followed by the near-unanimous vote to quit the place immediately.

The scout said he had located a savings and loan association that was willing to let us use their board room for our meeting and the vote was unanimous -- 37 to none -- to move to the S&L. We packed up everything and made the switch.

On our first night at the S&L, the members were joyful.

"This is great," said one, rubbing his hand on the 30-foot teakwood table.

"I love this room," said another.

"Can't we just stay here all day, every day?" asked another.

"How much is the rent?" asked an old-timer, cynically.

"No problem," replied the scout. "There's no rent. The S&L has a charter that says they can't charge community groups for using the facility. So we just give extra money to New York and Central Office."

"We can't do that," responded the old-timer. "You have probably heard about the Seventh Tradition. Your arrangement would violate it. We can't stay here."

The scout came back the following week and said he had found a church that would let us use their social hall on our meeting night. A week later we met in that church and used the facility for the next 18 years.

Other meetings haven't fared so well. A meeting in Hawaiian Gardens tried to meet in a bank without paying anything in rent and for some reason the meeting folded after four months. A similar fate awaited a men's stag held for free in a doctor's office in Los Alamitos. And a speaker meeting in Cerritos, unable to talk a savings and loan office into accepting even a gift donation, folded after just three months.

In the long form of the Seventh Tradition, the verbiage is even more specific. It says that groups "ought to be fully supported by the voluntary contributions of their own members." The long form also emphasizes that accepting gifts "from any source is unwise."

That ought to be enough to back off most of the connivers in our midst. It probably won't stop them all.

So we are likely to need a few people around (like that old-timer at my home group) to remind us of our proclivity for error.

George L., Westminster

THE SEVENTH CONCEPT

The Conference recognizes that the Charter and the Bylaws of the General Service Board are legal instruments: that the Trustees are thereby fully empowered to manage and conduct all of the world service affairs of Alcoholics Anonymous. It is further understood, that the Conference Charter itself is not a legal document: that it relies instead upon the force of tradition and the power of the AA purse for its final effectiveness.

The Board has the legal power and the Conference has the spiritual and financial power..."This means that the practical power of the Conference will nearly always be superior to the legal power of the Trustees," says Bill W. "This superior power in the Conference flows from the powerful traditional influence ... [that] derives from the large majority of group-chosen Delegates in the Conference. And finally, in any great extremity, it would rest upon the undoubted ability of the Delegates to deny the General Service Board the monies with which to operate--viz., the voluntary contributions of the AA groups themselves. Theoretically, the Conference is an advisory body only; but practically speaking, it has all of the ultimate rights and powers that it may ever need."

"Group-chosen Delegates" would seem to imply...well, state directly... that the groups choose the Delegates who attend the Annual General Service Conference.

We know, however, that the Delegates are actually elected by the votes of General Service Representatives (GSR's) from a few of the groups (those that even have GSR's), the Area Service Committee members, the elected Area Officers, and, in some Areas, other members who are included in the electorate. In many areas it isn't even necessary for the Groups' GSR's to be in the majority of those voting, so the Delegates are not "group-chosen".

So, to the extent that the groups are represented, the groups may or may not be electing the Conference Delegate from each Area. But let's, for argument's sake, say that the Conference is composed of "a large majority of group-chosen Delegates". What, then, does the group know about where its money goes?

Each year the Delegates return from the Conference with reports about what has been accomplished and what AA plans for the following year(s). They give their reports many, many times, all over the Areas, inviting the GSR's and anyone else to come and listen. Their reports are published in the Area newsletters, and when possible, on Area websites.

The staff at our General Service Office in New York publishes a summary of the Conference actions and later a complete report on all of the presentations and proposals and actions. These report booklets are sent out to the Delegates all over the U.S. and Canada who distribute them to everyone who wants one. There are Regional Forums, where staff from New York gives reports on what they have been doing and what they plan to do, based on what the Conference has directed. There are Special Forums and Conference workshops before and after the annual Conference. And how many AA members know what has happened at the Conference. Do you?

Concept Seven is about balance and trust. It is a spiritual balance and trust, based on practical consequences and understandings.

"When we reflect that our Trustees have no salaried financial interest in their posts, we can be quite sure that such a Board would never think of legally contesting the clear and sustained will of the Conference Delegates and the AA areas they represent. If some day the chips were really down, there would be little chance of a stalemate. The Conference would find itself in complete control of the situation. As the conscience of AA, the Delegates would find themselves in ultimate authority over our General Service Board and also its corporate arms of active world service."

Bill had complete confidence that the Groups would, through their combined "group conscience", be the "ultimate authority" for AA world services.

The questions I have are: Do we deserve his trust? Does my group know what a "group conscience" is? Does my group (or do I) have any idea how it and we fit into AA as a whole? Do we rely entirely on "someone else" to "run" AA while we focus only on carrying the message at the group level? Or do we take our responsibility, the trust Bill took for granted, seriously? Do we know that the delicate balances that protect and preserve AA for the future actually depend on each of us, and our willingness to know whether we can (or should) exert the "force of tradition" and the "power of the purse" through our Conference Delegate?

AA is in good hands. Our GSO and Grapevine staffs, the AAWS and Grapevine Boards of Trustees, our appointed non-trustee board members, our Conference Delegates, all are interested in our welfare and our ability to carry the message to the alcoholic who still suffers.

Are we, or should we be, interested in the remarkable balance of authority and responsibility that is our heritage and our legacy?

FOR YOUR INFORMATION!!

(In 1976, The Rand Report precipitated much controversy in the alcoholism treatment community. Since that time we have seen Behavior Modification, Rational Recovery and Moderation come and go. While they have had their successes, abstinence, fellowship and spirituality continue to provide a "daily reprieve" for millions around the globe.)

From the September, 1976, Lifeline

(More about the Rand Report)

Early in June, a report released by a Rand Corp. research team raised false hopes among thousands of alcoholics, struck terror into the hearts of their families and set off a furor among experts in the study and treatment of alcoholism.

The researchers said their study indicated some alcoholics can return to normal social drinking without relapse.

They had interviewed patients from several alcoholism treatment centers at six months and again 18 months after treatment. Only 10 percent reported total abstinence at both interviews, while most of the others said they were drinking at "lower levels" or were alternating periods of drinking and abstinence. This apparently convinced the researchers their subjects were safe from relapse.

Across the nation, experts in the treatment of alcoholism assailed the study for its inadequate sampling, shoddy methodology, lack of adequate follow-up and incredible naiveté in accepting the problem drinkers' evaluation of their new habits.

Release of such data, they warned, could lead many alcoholics into new rounds of suffering and even death.

And what, in the face of this high-level criticism, do we hear from the Rand researchers? Simply that their grant from the U.S. Department of Health and Welfare has been extended so they can carry on their fine work!

COMMITMENTS NUDGE PROVIDENCE

Until one is committed, there is hesitancy, the chance to draw back, always ineffectiveness. Concerning all acts of initiative (and Creation), there is one elementary truth, the ignorance of which kills countless ideas and splendid plans; that the moment one definitely commits oneself, then Providence moves too.

All sorts of things occur to help one that would never otherwise have occurred. A whole stream of events issues from the decision, raising in one's favor all manner of unforeseen incidents and meetings and material assistance, which no man could have dreamed would have come his way. I have learned a deep respect for one of Goethe's couplets:

"Whatever you can do or dream you can begin it.

Boldness has genius, power, and magic in it. "

From W.H. Murray- Santa Barbara Messenger.

"Humbly asked Him to remove our shortcomings"

In taking Step Seven, do we leave it all to a higher power?

"I AM the same person I was when I came into AA." This statement, made recently at a meeting by a member with over three years' sobriety, yielded a vigorous and quite unexpected reaction. "Whadya mean, you're the same person?" most of the comments went. "You couldn't possibly be the same person if you've been working the program, and besides, you wouldn't stay sober very long."

After things quieted down a bit, the bombshell thrower had a chance to explain what he meant. Sure, he could measure some growth, and he had learned to recognize and correct dangerous thinking. But he was basically still the same person. No startling personality changes had taken place, and he was still conscious of the same old shortcomings. He was able to stay sober because of a change in attitudes plus constant activity in AA.

There is some evidence from this and other experiences, that our shortcomings are never removed completely or permanently. Does this mean that Step

Seven (Humbly asked Him to remove our shortcomings) doesn't work? Certainly not, but if we stay sober a day at a time, can we expect the Steps to work for more than a day at a time? I believe it sufficient to ask Him to remove our shortcomings for today, and what's more, fully expect that He will. But we may also expect to be handicapped by these same shortcomings another day, at which time the Step may be renewed.

Another fairly common observation in AA is that we have a tendency to rely too heavily, and perhaps blame everything, on God's will. There are the if-you-want-potatoes-grab-a-hoe philosophers, who maintain that if things go badly, there is a tendency to say, "Oh, well, it's God's will," and do nothing about it. Likewise, they say, if we ask God to remove our shortcomings and just sit back, nothing will happen.

I believe there is much validity in this approach, and I do not see in it a denial of Step Seven. We have already established a reliance on a Higher Power in Steps Two and Three, and Step Seven is merely a further expression of our faith. But the words are not enough--the intent must also be there. We are willing to do something about our shortcomings, but we cannot do it alone, and we humbly ask Him for help.

What about the agnostics? Is this Step out for them? I don't think so. If you have trouble with "God," try adding an "o." I believe it is possible, and even desirable, to rely on the good in other people as a Higher Power. Certainly the spirit of love, which pervades the Fellowship, is sufficient to help me remove my shortcomings for today, and I am a Christian.

Finally, I do not see any "spiritual side" to this program. The whole thing is spiritual--the Steps, the Traditions, the meetings, the Twelfth Step calls, the literature--everything. There need not be a search for spirituality only in the Steps including the word "God." If a member enters into the Fellowship whole -- heartedly, he is apt to find that the familiar shortcomings aren't popping up quite as often, even though he may not be conscious of having asked God to remove them recently. In my book, this is Step Seven at work.

AUNT CAROL BAILING OUT IN IRAQ

A teacher gave her fifth grade class an assignment: Get their parents to tell them a story with a moral at the end of it.

The next day the kids came back and one by one began to tell their stories. "Johnny, do you have a story to share?"

"Yes, ma'am, my Daddy told a story about my Aunt Karen. Aunt Karen was a pilot in Desert Storm and her plane was hit. She had to bail out over enemy territory and all she had was a small flask of whiskey, a pistol and a survival knife. She drank the whiskey on the way down so it would not break.

"Her parachute landed right in the middle of twenty enemy troops. She shot fifteen of them with the gun until she ran out of bullets. She killed four more with the knife, 'till the blade broke. Then she killed the last Iraqi with her bare hands."

"Good heavens," said the horrified teacher, "What kind of moral did your Daddy tell you from that horrible story?"

"Stay away from Aunt Karen when she's been drinking."

ALKIES ARE ALWAYS THINKING

After purchasing a brand new Corvette, a middle-aged California playboy stopped off at his favorite watering hole to show off his new convertible. After many hours of showing off the car and being toasted with drinks, he looked at his watch and realized it was nearly 2:00 AM and the bar would be closing. He finished off his last drink and staggered out to the parking lot.

Taking off down the freeway, he floored it to 80 mph, enjoying the wind blowing through his hair.

"Amazing", he thought as he flew down 101 pushing the pedal to the metal even more. Looking in his rear view mirror, he saw the highway patrol behind him, blue lights flashing and siren blaring.

"I can get away from him – no problem", thought the inebriated playboy nutcase as he floored it to 100 mph, then 110, then 120. Suddenly he thought, "What on earth am I doing? I'm too old for this nonsense!" He pulled over to the curb and waited for the trooper to catch up to him.

Pulling in behind him, the Trooper slowly walked up to the driver's side of the Corvette, looked at his watch and said, "Sir, my shift ends in 30 minutes. Today is Friday and I have two days off. If you can give me a good reason why you were speeding that I've never heard before, I'll let you go."

The man, looking very seriously at the Trooper, said, "Officer, ten years ago, my wife ran off with a California State Trooper. When I saw the flashing lights behind me, I thought you were bringing her back".

"I know that feeling. Have a good night, sir", said the Trooper as he walked back to his patrol car, got in and drove away.

THE LIFELINE
1526 BROOKHOLLOW, SUITE 75
SANTA ANA, CA 92705

Published monthly by the Orange County Intergroup Association

Purpose: The Orange County Lifeline Committee is a committee of volunteer A.A. members, charged with the responsibility of producing and distributing the Orange County Lifeline, (a publication of the Orange County Intergroup Association). The Lifeline is published monthly and is supported solely through contributions from the A.A. groups and members of Orange County. The Lifeline is published to meet the following needs of the Orange County A.A. membership: to inform the A.A. membership regarding A.A. service, A.A. events and A.A. announcements; also to share experience in recovery, unity and service; to keep the A.A. membership informed regarding the actions, finances and meetings of the Orange County Intergroup Association and other Central Office committees.

Lifeline Committee: We meet the 1st Thursday of each month at the Central Office. Join us @ 7PM.

Larry E. (Chair); Jim S., Phil F.; Nick M., George L., Cathy R., (Editor)

CENTRAL OFFICE CALL FORWARDING SHIFTS

Call-forwarding is the program instituted by Orange County Central Office whereby, during hours when the Central Office is closed, calls to the Central Office are forwarded to your phone and you answer the calls, just as if you were sitting in the Central Office as a volunteer. This service allows the Central Office to realize a significant cost savings because we do not need to contract to a vendor to answer the phone and forward the call on to a central Office 12th Step volunteer. Even more vital, when a call is placed to Alcoholics Anonymous, the caller will be talking to an A.A. member not a paid private worker! Many of the shifts listed below are currently filled by A.A. members. If you see a shift that you would be able to take, please call the Central Office at (714) 556-4555 to determine if that shift is currently unfilled

A DELICATE DIET FOR DAINTYMOUTHED DRUNKARDS (C. 1575)

by George Gascoigne found in the Grapevine Digital Archive (c. 1995), and contributed by Grady S. of St. Louis, Missouri:

I would that our gentry, and the better sort of our people, were not so much acquainted with quaffing, carousing and drinking of hearty draughts at many merry conventions. I find that the pleasantness of the drink and the infirmity of our nature do beget one draught upon another, so that, beginning with courtesy, we end with madness and beastliness.

Well wrote he which said that the first cup quenched thirst, the second induced mirth and rejoicing in heart, the third voluptuousness, the fourth drunkenness, the fifth wrathfulness, the sixth contentiousness, the seventh furiousness, the eighth sluggishness, and the ninth extremity of sickness.

But with us nine draughts, yea nineteen draughts, nay, sometimes nine and twenty do not suffice. And though his worldly friends wink, and temporal death forbear him a while, let him yet not think to escape: for it weakeneth and endangereth man's body daily, it impaireth his reputation openly, and woundeth his soul secretly.

SHARING KINDNESS

I shall pass through this world but once.
 If, therefore, there be any kindness I can show,
 or any good thing I can do,
 let me do it now;
 let me not defer it or neglect it,
 for I shall not pass this way again.
 ~ Greller ~

Two mosquitoes land on a drunk. One says to the other, "You bite him - I'm driving". Anon.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY

Many A.A. members celebrate their AA Birthday by sending a donation to Central Office. These donations help to keep the doors of the office open so that new members may receive the same help so many of us already have. Others make a quarterly donation, or simply make Personal Contributions. All donations are greatly appreciated.

Birthday Gratitude To:

God and You (AA Fellowship)

If it weren't for God,
I would have no patience.
If it weren't for you,
I would have no friends.
If it weren't for God,
I would never know peace.
If it weren't for you,
I couldn't stay sober.
If it weren't for God,
I'd have never met you.
If it weren't for God
We would have no sunsets nor rainbows or streams or waterfalls, and life for us as we know it today just wouldn't exist at all.
Thank God we have each night and day-
Thank God we have each other.

PIECES OF ME

I close my eyes,
I breathe in, I breathe out.
I feel the warmth of the sun on my face,
and the sand in between my toes.
I hear the crashing of the waves.
I smell the salt in the air,
and I think to myself,
what more could I ask for?
Today I have found that each and every day that I do not pick up a drink or a drug, I am reclaiming pieces of myself. It is only now that I am sober that I can look back and see how truly broken I was. I am like the many washed up pieces of shells on the shore.
Or the pieces of a puzzle that will never become a whole picture, until pieces are replaced. Each day that I choose life I get a piece back. I am so grateful for the life that has been put into me. When before, you would look into my eyes you would see emptiness.
Today I am proud to say you can see I am very much alive! Today I live life, even though it is not always easy. There are many moments and days I feel so uncomfortable in my own skin, feeling awkward and out of place.
There are days I feel like crying, staying under the covers and not facing another day. There are also many days when all I think about is myself and my head just runs and runs. But I promise you this, there are moments and there are days where I find quietness within and a peacefulness I have never known. There are days I do want to do what I can for another because I know in the end, it helps me just as much. There are days that I walk with my head held a little higher, and times when I have laugh until my stomach hurts. I choose life, the good and the bad. I would rather take a handful of a bad days and one good day all sober, than any day of my drinking. When I was drinking I could be in a room full of people and experience such an overwhelming sensation of loneliness and profound emptiness. Today I lie on the beach with only myself and my thoughts, completely content with how rich my life is. Even without a person within miles of me, I know that I am not alone. Every day I am praying to become the individual, the adult, the woman that I was created to be. I am grateful that even though I may not know what my purpose is in life, I truly believe I do have one!

I now open my eyes,
to such beauty,
and the road that lies ahead of me.

I am grateful for the pieces of myself I have lost, and now for the pieces I am regaining.

Even though I may not be complete,
and there may be many more pieces to pick up along my road, lessons to learn, choices to make,
tears to cry,
today, at this very hour, this very moment,
I am at peace with myself and the world around me,
and this to me makes everything worth it!

THE HAT LADIES

Sitting in a circle each Friday at noon,
Waiting for a newcomer arriving not a minute too soon

Listening, nodding, shedding their tears, Soothing the newcomer, removing her fears

"Keep coming back" they told her
at the close,
She remembers each one like a beautiful rose

How they were there for her in her time of need,
And when it was time, she was ready to take the lead

She shared with the new women walking in the door
A way of life they never knew before

How to live with dignity and grace
And leave behind

A selfish life without a trace

Happy, Joyous and Free
Like the Hat Ladies, how we all can be.

By Christine P.
In loving memory of Linda C.
Who passed on to swim with the Dolphins on May 18, 2006

Our hats are off to you, the Hat Ladies, the older (pardon) and wiser women of AA from the Newport Dodge meeting in Tustin who showed Linda the way when she came to AA on Sept 11, 1988.

that the AA way of life is - Humble, not necessarily meek;
Accepting, not necessarily passive;
Loving, not necessarily possessive;
Honest, not necessarily ruthless;
Moral, not necessarily righteous;
Enviably, not necessarily smug;
Spiritual, not necessarily religious; and Attractive, not necessarily irresistible."

WALNUT STREET MEETING ONE OF THE OLDEST IN ORANGE COUNTY

The Tuesday Night Closed
Discussion Meeting of AA meets at 7:00pm at the church at 1130 E.
Walnut in Orange. Now known as "Walnut Street," this meeting is also known to regular attendees as "the second oldest meeting in Orange County." This meeting was part of the first emergence of AA in California, and started sometime in the late 40's or early 50's somewhere in Tustin. Edna G. and Hal H. were among its founders, and Wayne S. was one of its early stalwarts. At various times this meeting has been one of the largest and one of the smallest meetings in Orange County.

In 1964 it relocated from Tustin to the Women's Assistance League Hall in downtown Orange, and sometime later moved to its present location on Walnut. Through thick and thin, the Walnut meeting has kept carrying the message of AA and recovery. The newcomer today can get a cup of coffee, a cookie, and most importantly, will be welcomed by the meeting, including the oldtimers, some of whom have been coming to the meeting since the Women's Assistance League Hall days, and even the Tustin days.

Group or meeting histories are one more way to participate in sobriety and to carry the message of AA. The oldtimers that today's oldtimers remember are the original oldtimers of AA; in a few more years this direct connection to the founders of our oldest meetings will be lost. The Archives Committee of the Mid-Southern California Area, and many district Archives Committees, encourage all of us to join them in gathering group and meeting histories.

The area website, at www.msca09aa.org, or your group's GSR, can put you in touch with the Area Archivist or the Committee for suggestions on how to discover your group or meeting's history. Doing so is a great way to learn about the experience strength and hope of decades of sobriety and the neat folks who have it.

Cliff L – Archivist for District 05, (Orange, Tustin, Santa Ana and Villa Park)
